Play of the Week

The results for last week's POW (3) are shown below:

IAABO's interpretation and ruling on this play...

The lead official does not obtain the proper position to rule on this play. Our manual indicates the following with respect to the lead official's position:

The Lead Official

- a. Is normally ahead of the ball and the play*
- b. Is responsible for rulings involving his/her PCA and the nearest end line*
- c. May apply A, B, C (be wide, close down, move to ballside) technique to improve coverage*
- d. Should have depth off the end line, if possible.*

The lead official in this play stopped and remained on the end line for the duration of this play and does not obtain the depth off the end line necessary for proper positioning.

The official should have remained at the site of the foul and properly followed the specific communication procedures and signals required (preliminary information). It is imperative that officials remain at the site of the foul and provide this necessary information to both ensure that all participants are aware of the official's ruling and to ensure that no extracurricular activity takes place between opponents.

Please refer to Pages 139-140 in the IAABO manual for the proper procedures at the site of the foul and in the reporting area.

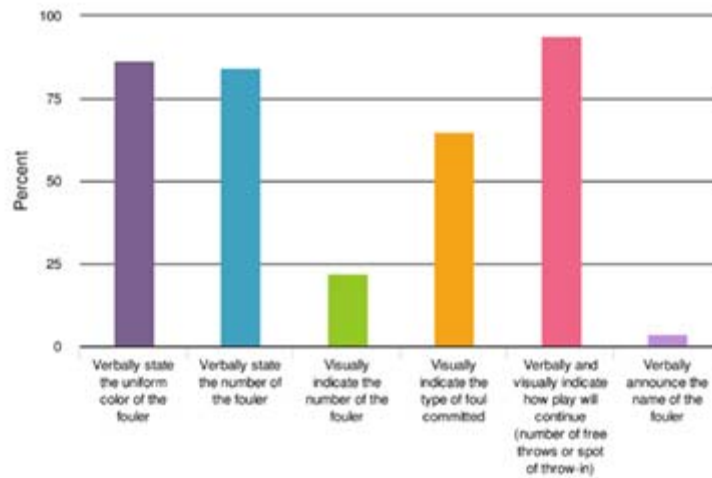

1. Was the lead official in proper position when he made the call?

2. Should the official have remained at the site of the foul for an extra moment to be sure there would be no further activity at the site of the foul?

3. What preliminary information should the official have given at the site of the foul? (Please check all that apply.)

For board bulk purchases, click on Board Purchases and sign in using your board administrative account. Note that this process can't be used directly to receive the promotional price, but boards can complete this process and then email us to apply the promotional discount as a credit adjustment.

Special Pre-Season Advisory for ALL IAABO Officials Student/Atheletes/Coach National Anthem Postures

As preparations for a new season are underway, sports officials are dealing with many challenges, some familiar, some new. All require IAABO Boards and officials to pay special attention to several areas where legal exposures are present; and where legal rights need to be asserted by officials. All officials should bear in mind that incorrect handling of the situations discussed below can result in significant legal and personal consequences. Please request that local boards review each of the following five areas of concern with all officials prior to the beginning of the season. If there are remaining questions, please contact the IAABO office.

1. Student-Athlete/Coach National Anthem Postures.

Media reports from various areas have recounted several instances where high school game officials have reacted publicly to student-athletes and/or coaches kneeling in silent protest during the playing of the national anthem before a game. This fall, it was reported that two officials, at a pre-match meeting with coaches threatened to disqualify any players who did not demonstrate respect for the American flag or the national anthem. In another instance, an official observed a player kneeling during the anthem and proceeded to advise a coach that he was leaving the gym. In yet another game, after witnessing players kneeling during the anthem two officials left the field, leaving the 3 remaining officials, — allegedly not without verbalizing his objection to kneeling players and their coach. After the game, the media reported that the coach claimed that, before the game the Referee requested — on behalf of the officiating crew — that any player who might kneel remain in the locker room “to avoid any problems.” After the game, one of the departed officials eagerly gave media interviews where he was reported to have said the chain officials who were called off the sidelines to replace the two officials “...weren’t officially trained,” and added that if the kneeling players “weren’t happy in the U.S., they should leave the country.”.....Click here to review the remainder of the advisory.

Directors & Officers Insurance Quick Facts

D&O Liability provides protection from lawsuits alleging damages against not only your board's officers, but also member officials of your IAABO Board. It provides coverage against such claims as: discrimination, harassment, financial mismanagement, wrongful suspension of officials, and wrongful dismissal of officials. Without D&O insurance, board members can be held personally liable with their own personal assets at risk to pay for defense costs in the event of a lawsuit. If you have any questions, please feel free to reach out to me at estanton@bordenperلمان.com

Game Tracker Journal

You have likely heard the saying, “a goal without a plan is just a wish,” and this age-old adage rings so true for all people pursuing all types of endeavors.

And for basketball officials embarking on the 2017-2018 season absent a basic strategy on how to achieve a stated desire -- a better schedule; advancement to the next level -- you are in a rudderless boat on an open sea hoping the winds of fate blow you to your destination.

Seeking officiating success described in this manner seems laughable, but yet many officials take this approach with their beloved avocation.

But Ref, don't panic now...Help is on the way in the form of the new, and first of its kind, GameTracker Journal.

This latest publication from long time IAABO members Billy Martin, Tim Malloy and Al Battista, the creators of Ref60.com, is an innovative tool that provides a template for every basketball official, at every level, to create your own realistic roadmap helping to guide you to your desired destination - one game at a time.
